

Coco swam through the waves with a happy cheer,
Past coral and fish that swam so near.
“I made it home!” she shouted with glee:
Thanks to your help, I’m back in the sea!
Seems like this page needs some coloring fun,
Grab your crayons and start with the sun!

A mountain goat grinned and gave a wink,
“Climb to my lookout, then stop and think!
You’ll see the trees where your home might be,
But first, this maze is the place to flee!”

A jungle bird chirped and dropped something bright, shiny little dots that sparkled in light.

Connect the dots to see the sign, That shows
the way past the twisty vine!

She followed a trail past a sleepy old log.
And met a kind lizard who lived in the fog.
“This jungle maze will twist and bend –
But if you’re brave, you’ll find the end!”
